Put Some Junk in the Trunk

Antiques Await at Ringgold's Junk Market!

Spring may be for cleaning, but Fall is for nesting! If you want to make your home feel like the cozy reprieve of your dreams, there's no better place to start than at the Fall Junk Market. Explore the dozens of additional vendor tents set up for the Market to find those unique pieces you've been searching for. Though the primary participants in the Junk Market are Ringgold's antique stores, many other businesses will offer discounts, tent sales, and other special offerings! Attendees can expect to find vintage and secondhand clothing, antique furniture and home decor items, and other collectibles like vinyl records, books, and comics. Shop your way through Ringgold on September 20th and 21st! (Hours vary between stores.)

Bands, Brats, & Brews at Oktoberfest

Though the Rabbit Valley Farmers Market season is winding down, they still have a stacked event calendar. One of their most popular events returns on Saturday, October 5th, at the Ringgold Market Pavilion. The RVFM Oktoberfest celebration will feature themed offerings like German food, music, draft beer, and more! Pull out your lederhosen and don your best German attire for the festivities. Special collectible lapel pins will be sold for this event, so don't miss out. The fun begins at 5 pm and wraps at 9 pm. In addition to Oktoberfest, Rabbit Valley still has several more regular markets, the final night of their Summer Concert Series on September 7th, and a special Narnia-themed Harvest and Holiday Market on November 15th and 16th. For exact times and other details on these events or to view RVFM's entire 2024 event schedule, visit the link at the bottom of this page.
